Research Methodology used for Concrete Admixtures Market:

Market Synopsis of Global Concrete Admixtures Market:
Global Concrete Admixtures market is growing rapidly at the rate of CAGR of XX% in the past years and is expected to grow at the same rate in developing economies in forecast year. Concrete admixtures are supreme chemicals added to concrete at the initial mixing stage to modify the working properties of the mixture. Properties of concrete enhances strength, durability and with admixture adds chemical stability with reduction in water usage. Admixture not only reduces water content, also helps in slowing down the rate at which concrete sets. Therefore, workers do not feel overloaded in working on structures. The global concrete admixtures market is segmented based on function, application and region for the forecasted period 2016 to 2022. On basis of concrete admixtures, it is segmented by functions such as

- Plasticizers – Water reducing agent.
- Super Plasticizers- High range of water reducers.
- Air Entrainers- Increased Cohesion
- Accelerators & Retarders- Reduces the time for mix to set
- Waterproofing Admixtures- Blocks capillary pores of concrete.
Growing demand for infrastructures in developing economies, rapid urbanization and rise in income of middle class had shifted the demand for residential and construction to new better level which in turn drives the growth of concrete admixture market in the future. Government policies for infrastructure standard and need for reduction in water usage during construction time is a major concern for contractors which can be addressed by the effective use of concrete admixtures. Geographically, APAC region dominates these concrete admixture market both in terms of volume and value. As per analysis, developing economies like China, India and Brazil are consuming high amount of concrete for blooming civil structures. Change in FDI policies and growing residential demand due to rise in population is providing an opportunity for the concrete admixture market to grow in forecasted period. North America and Europe is expected to show sluggish growth due to saturation of construction industry.
